

COL Kyle T. Moulton

Colonel Kyle T. Moulton hails from Camden, Tennessee. He received his commission as an Engineer Officer from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville in 1999. He is a graduate of the Engineer Officer Basic and Advance Courses, Combined Arms Service and Staff School, Command and General Staff College, and the Army War College.

His previous non-command assignments were the 27th Engineer Battalion (Combat Airborne) at Fort Bragg; 41st Engineer Battalion and 1st Brigade Combat Team, 10th Mountain Division at Fort Drum; Headquarters and 4th Brigade Combat Team, 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg; Joint Readiness Training Center at Fort Polk; U.S. Southern Command at Doral, Florida; and the U.S. Army Engineer School and Maneuver Support Center of Excellence at Fort Leonard Wood.

His previous command assignments were Commander, A Company, 1st Brigade Special Troops Battalion, 10th Mountain Division at Fort Drum and Commander, 6th Brigade Engineer Battalion, 4th Brigade Combat Team (Airborne), 25th Infantry Division at JBER, Alaska.

COL Moulton's deployments include an operational deployment to Bosnia and Herzegovina in support of Operation Joint Forge; two combat deployments to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom; and two combat deployments to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

Among others, his awards and decorations include the Combat Action Badge, Ranger Tab, Master Parachutist Badge, German Parachutist Badge, Russian Parachutist Badge, Polish Parachutist Badge, and Venezuelan Parachutist Badge.

COL Moulton holds a Masters of Science degree in Strategic Studies from the U.S. Army War College; a Masters of Science degree in Engineering Management from the University of Missouri, Rolla; and a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

He is married to the former Amela Uzicanin from Doboj, Bosnia and Herzegovina. They have two daughters, Shenandoah and Cheyenne.